Project Title: Waggoner Elementary Native Tree Landscaping

Project Location – Specific: 500 Edwards St, Winters, CA 95694; APN: 003130001

Project Location – City: Winters, CA

Project Location – County: Yolo

Description of nature and purpose of the Project: The project involves installation of native plant landscaping in an expanded student loading and unloading zone and new parking lot areas. The RCD is assisting in native plant selection for the new landscaping areas, with input and installation assistance from the community, but is not involved in the construction portion of this project.

The Yolo County RCD conducted a biological review, which determined that the site is located within the range for the western bumblebee (Bombus occidentalis). Numerous other species are documented within close proximity to the site, but will not be negatively impacted by the project as it will involve minimal ground disturbance. Native trees and plants will be installed by hand using shovels to dig the holes for planting. Implementation of this hedgerow is expected to occur during the fall or winter season and will not impact special status plants or wildlife. The goal of the project is to create landscaping that also serves as beneficial habitat for native species of wildlife and pollinators by providing floral resources, forage, and shelter in an urban area surrounded by agricultural land.

- Categorical Exemption. State type and section number: Class 33, Small Habitat Restoration Projects CEQA Guidelines Title 14 § 15333

Reasons why project is exempt:

This habitat enhancement project has been explicitly designed to benefit native pollinators and wildlife. Native tree implementation will be conducted using hand tools with minor disturbance to soil.

This restoration project meets the requirements of Class 33 Categorical Exemption (small habitat restoration projects) Section 15333 as the project is under 5 acres. Project implementation will not result in significant adverse impact on endangered, rare, or threatened species. The project will principally be carried out with hand tools and not mechanized equipment, and will result in revegetation that will improve habitat for native wildlife and pollinators. It has been concluded that no significant adverse environmental impacts would occur to aesthetics, agriculture and forest resources, air quality, biological resources, cultural resources, energy, geology and soils, greenhouse gas emissions, hazards and hazardous materials, hydrology and water quality, land use and planning, mineral resources, noise, populations and housing, public services, recreation, transportation and traffic, utilities and service systems, or wildfire.
