Project Location: Redding, CA, Shasta County
City County

Project Description (Proposed actions, location, and/or consequences).

The City of Redding (City) is proposing to combine the Churn Creek Road/Victor Avenue intersection and the Churn Creek Road/, and Rancho Road intersection into a single roundabout intersection to provide safe and sustainable transportation and accommodate traffic associated with current and projected development. Design includes accessible curb ramps, bike lanes and shared-use paths, raised splitter islands, street lighting, and landscaping. As a result of the widening of Churn Creek Road, the Anderson Cottonwood Irrigation District (ACID) Division 5 lateral earthen ditch will be reconstructed and conveyed through an underground 36-inch reinforced concrete pipe and reconnected via three (3) service lines called turn outs.

Identify the project's significant or potentially significant effects and briefly describe any proposed mitigation measures that would reduce or avoid that effect.

Potential impacts to biological measures were identified and mitigation measures are proposed to avoid impacts. Special status species, such as migratory birds and raptors and common roosting bats may be impacted.

If applicable, describe any of the project's areas of controversy known to the Lead Agency, including issues raised by agencies and the public.
